

Profile James Levingston

Lay representative for Armidale Diocese.

Practising New South Wales Solicitor admitted to practice in 1977 having then completed the Solicitors Admission Board course. Previously a Principal of the firm of Patterson, Byfield & Bryen since admission. Now semi retired (in the last 6 months) having sold my practice and am now employed by my successor on a part time basis. Have been on General Synod since 1998 as a Lay Representative for the Armidale Diocese. Have been a Lay Representative on Armidale Synod for over 30 years. Was a Board Member (for Armidale Diocese) on the Anglican Provident Fund (superannuation for clergy) until it was directed to have the administration by APRA. Corporate Trustee for the Armidale Diocese. Currently Church Warden and lay synod representative for the parish of Walcha in the Armidale Diocese.