

Rev Katrina Holgate – Anglican Parish of Guildford WA

I am currently the Priest-in-Charge at St Matthew's in Guildford WA.

I have committed much of my adult life to serving God in various roles including:

Children's Minister (UK), Parish Administrator (Cottesloe), Parish Councillor & Warden (Cottesloe) Theological Student, Deacon and Priest.

I am married to Jonathan, we have two adult daughters. My husband Jonathan and I are both actively involved in parish ministry, and we are in our eighth year of serving as chaplains to Yongah Hill Immigration Detention Centre in Northam. We also have a ministry to the local Noongar community. I am a member WA Aboriginal Ministry Working Group and the Refugee and Migrant Working Group.

I have served in parish ministry at St Michael and All Angels, Spearwood (as theological student), St Alban's, Highgate (as deacon and priest – assistant minister) and at St Matthew's Guildford (as priest-in-charge).
